New Policy Overview: Behavior Program Review Committees for DD Community Services Informational session provided via Conference Call & Internet

This informational session is designed to explain a new policy for DD Community Providers relating to the development and implementation of the Behavior Program Review Committees. The informational session will use the AT&T Connect online conferencing system. AT&T Connect allows participants to log on to a website from the computer, view the facilitator's information online while listening to the facilitator through the use of a simultaneous telephone conference call.

As a result of this information session, participants will:

- Learn the details of the new policy;
- Gain an understanding of the process for reviews of behavior plans by the committees; and,
- Have a better understanding of provider responsibilities related to the policy.

This session is for DD Community Providers and Support Coordinators. All behavior support and clinical staff should attend, but all levels of agency leadership will benefit in learning the new policy. The presenter for this training will be Clint Trusty, M.S., BCBA, who is a Board Certified Behavioral Analyst and serves as a Senior Behavioral Analyst for the DBHDD, Division of Developmental Disabilities.

Session Dates/Times
You will have access to the online conferencing system 30 minutes before the start of each session.
